

PRESS RELEASE

Zug, January 26th, 2016

Rontis inaugurates two new Business Development hubs in London and New York

Rontis Corporation S.A. is becoming 30 years old in year 2016 and now more than ever, the company is ready to start implementing its' strategy for the next 30 years to come.

Ever since the establishment of its 1st Medical Devices plant back in year 1999, Rontis has taken the course of becoming a leading, premium developer and manufacturer of state-of-the-art specialty healthcare technology, whether it is Medical Devices, Pharmaceuticals, Infant Nutrition or Consumer Healthcare products or finally Healthcare Services. Following this vision, our company will focus more (and more) in the future in two specific activities: Research & New Product Development and International Business Development. Our company today runs 3 different manufacturing sites in Larissa and Veles and 2 R&D centers in Medical Devices and Pharmaceuticals respectively. In the near and immediate future, we will focus in bringing more selective products to the market faster and in building further a formidable International Business Development team that will be responsible for the promotion of all Rontis specialty healthcare technologies across the globe! Already, our company is actively providing it' s products and services in more than 35 countries while 22 more markets are in the final phases of local registration process.

As international business is increasing in diverse regions of the world, Rontis saw the need to be closer to the markets where it is active in and also locate itself in international business hubs from where it is easier to hold meetings and corporate events with its numerous clients. For this reason we are proud and pleased to announce the inauguration of our two new 'International Business Development Hubs' which will be situated in the heart of London and New York respectively! With this move of international magnitude, our company is advancing into the future with a great vision of international expansion and awareness. Our London location will oversee our already established business activities in Europe, while we will be receiving a lot of transiting partners. The New York location will be focusing in our future activities in the USA market and will be closely controlling our extensive operations in Latin America.

---

For further information, please contact Rontis' Corporate Communication Department at media.relations@rontis.com.